Watson, member of the Commons for Marquette, arrived from Ottawa on Saturday. He speaks evasively of taking a portfolio in the Greenway government, but in ministerial circles it is asserted he accepts. Many liberals disapprove of Watson's course.

The waters of the Arkansas and Water White river are still high and rising. The crops of fifteen thousand farmers are ruined. The water will remain high so long that planting corn will be useless. The Mississippi remains stationery at New Orleans. The Missouri rose a little higher at Kansas City on Saturday. It now remains stationery. The damage there amounts to millions.

Deeming, the murderer, was hanged at Melbourne, Australia, on Saturday. He died without making a confession.

The British have defeated the Jebus, near Magbone. Twenty chiefs and four hundred soldiers killed. Three British officers and twenty men wounded. The British occupied Jebund.

Two fishermen, of Melbourne, Australia, with fifteen members of a football team, started for Port Philip yesterday and have not since been seen. The boat drifted ashore, bottom up.

THE auction sale of team horses, harness, etc., belonging to Messrs. O'Brien & Barry, Belmont, on Thursday last, at Kelly & Chisholm's stable, Edmonton, was well attended and quite successful. Good prices were realized throughout. One driving mare, purchased by Kelly & Chisholm, brought $175.

TO-MORROW is the 24th of May, a legal holiday throughout the most widespread, the most wealthy, the most populous and most enlightened empire in the world or that ever was in the world. It is the birthday of the sovereign, the queen and empress Victoria, whose chief and greatest glory—good Tories are requested to remember—is that she is the most liberal ruler of the most liberal empire that is or ever was.

MONDAY's train brought in from Nova Scotia, for Theo. Fulton, of South Edmonton, a thoroughbred Jersey cow, a Holstein bull, a Durham cow and bull and a Clyde mare, Lady St. Lawrence, No. 1,371. The above animals are all registered thoroughbreds. There was also the Clyde stallion, Lucky Barrister, a blood stallion, 2 years old, and two blood mares, one and six years old respectively. This is a most valuable importation of good stock.

MISS TAYLOR, daughter of United States consul Taylor, of Winnipeg, arrived on Thursday's train on her way north to the Arctic circle by the H. B. steamers on the waters of the Mackenzie. Miss Taylor is an experienced traveller and is also a naturalist and artist. Times are changed when a lady can travel for pleasure and information, without escort, over the ground where Richardson, Back and Franklin suffered such terrible privations and hardships, and even death, not so very long ago.

F. W. H. BARLOW, of Fish Creek, south of Calgary, was found dead in his house, on May 13th, with a gun shot wound in the neck. An open verdict was returned by the coroner's jury, as it was not clear whether the discharge of the gun, which caused death, had been intentional or accidental. The deceased came from Bolton, Lancashire, England, about the middle of last winter.

THE Regina Leader says that owing to the lateness of the season many farmers are not seeding their full amount of land. In this district, although growth is only now commencing, the weather could not have been more favorable for getting the grain in, and a larger area than usual is being put in crop. The land could not be in better condition, and wheat is up all over the district and never looked better, although further advanced, at this season.

THE high winds of the past few days have fanned up the smouldering spring fires in the Beaver Hills, and there is resulting an immense destruction of timber. On the prairie the growth of grass has made such headway that the fires do not run readily; but in the partly timbered hills the growth does not start so soon, and there is so much dry vegetation from last year's growth that a fire finds plenty to feed on if only the wind is strong enough to drive it.

THE following dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church will visit Edmonton on or about May 27th: Mgr. Duhamel, archbishop of Ottawa, and Rev. Canon Belanger; Mgr. Lafleche, bishop of Three Rivers, and Rev. Mr. Marchand; Mgr. Lorrain, bishop of Pembroke, and Rev. Mr. Seguin, of Montreal; Mgr. McDonnell, new bishop of Brooklyn; Mgr. Brondel, bishop of Helena, Montana; Mgr. Grouard, bishop of Athabasca-Mackenzie, and Rev. Father Royer; Mgr. Hamel, of Laval, representing Cardinal Taschereau, and Rev. Mr. Marois; Very Rev. Abbe Marechal, V.G., representing Mgr. Fabre, archbishop of Montreal, and Rev. Auclair, cure of St. Jean Baptiste; Rev. Mr. Rouleau, cure of Rimouski, representing Mgr. Blois; Rev. Abbe Leclaire, cure of St. Joseph, of Montreal. Judge Routhier, of Quebec, accompanies the party.

"THE RINGER,"

THOROUGHbred CLYDE STALLION.

Imported from Scotland by Ben Allen of Dunlop, Ontario. Registered in the Clydesdale stud book of Great Britain and Ireland, Vol. XI., No. 7239. The only registered Clyde horse ever brought to the Edmonton district.

Will stand for service this season in the Edmonton district. Route from Edmonton to Fort Saskatchewan, Sturgeon River and St. Albert.

M. McLEOD, — PROPRIETOR

LUCKY BARRISTER.

Sire "Barrister" (Without dispute)

This fine well bred Stallion will make the Season of 1892 as follows:

Every Wednesday and Saturday at M. McCauley's Livery and Feed Stables, Edmonton; returning home each night to his own stable, South Edmonton.

Leaving his own stable, South Edmonton, every other Monday for Fort Saskatchewan by way of south side; returning by way of Sturgeon to Edmonton by Wednesday.

TERMS.—Single service, $7, Season $10; $4 down at first service, balance on last trip. Warrant, $12; $5 at time of service, balance when mare proves in foal. Five mares insured for $10 each. Mares not proving in foal may return next year free. All mares changing hands considered in foal. All mares served at owner's risk.

Pedigree.—Sired by the far famed Barrister, (imported) which needs no description, and sold at auction, in Charlottetown, for $2,200.

1st dam by the Wallace horse (Clydesdale). 2nd dam by Clyde, imported from Scotland. 3rd dam by the celebrated McGrath horse (Clydesdale). 4th dam, Canadian bred.

Thus, it will be seen at a glance that Lucky Barrister is about fifteen-sixteenths pure Clydesdale bred. Weighs 1,650 stands 16 hands 2 inches high, as active as a standard bred trotter, and as nice styled as any horse in this country. Docile and kind. Free from vice and blemish, and is just the horse for this country. In color, he is a bright bay with the characteristic marks of the Clyde, three white feet and a small strip in the face, black mane and tail.

He has taken more prizes on Prince Edward Island than any horse of his age in his class, and his stock which is only one year old is as near perfect as can be.

P. S.—Farmers! This is the best horse in the country, therefore he is the right one to breed to. You can raise a big horse every time. Life is too short for farmers to raise trotters. Any further information will be gladly given by

THEO. FULTON,
Owner and Groom.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, MAY, 25, 1892.

IMMIGRATION.

The Winnipeg Commercial speaking of the recent movement of Canadians in the States to the Northwest, points out the fact that until the Northwest became a part of Canada, the surplus population of the Eastern provinces had no other advantageous outlet than to the western States. It continues: "Then followed the opening of what is now Western Canada for settlement, and during the last decade or two the stream of immigration from the old districts of Eastern Canada has been turned mainly into this new portion of the Dominion." Unfortunately this statement is untrue, and being untrue it is better for us, no matter how much we would like to hug the delusion, to face the cold and unacceptable fact, which is that during the two last decades, and particularly during the last decade, a larger number and a larger proportion of Canadians have found homes in the United States than ever before, although the Northwest was open to them during that time and really offered them superior inducements. If this is the fact—and it is the fact—our true policy is to enquire into the reasons for it, with a view to remedying the evil; not simply shut our eyes to it and deny its existence, hoping that it will remedy itself.

Many reasons may be and are given for the Canadian exodus of the past twenty years by those who acknowledge its existence, most of which reasons are of a nature to convey no hope of a remedy. The BULLETIN believes that there has been an immense exodus; that Canada has lost more men and more money by that exodus than would have been lost in the most devastating war. But seeing that the country is still populous and prosperous, and still increasing in population and prosperity, the fact that we have survived so well such a fearful drain upon our resources of both men and money is ample proof, if proofs were wanting, of the goodness of the country, the vigor of the people and the stability of our institutions.

Although the first reason for the acquisition of the Northwest by Canada was, without doubt, that a home field for our home emigration might be provided, it was not long before our leading people took fright at what they had done. They saw a fertile region of ten times the area of the populous parts of the eastern provinces opened up for settlement and they feared the partial depopulation of those provinces and a consequent depreciation of the value of property and loss of business, from the rush to the new land. A new policy was adopted, which was this: "Fill up the Northwest with Europeans, but keep our own people at home." This was the policy of parliament, of the government, of the newspapers, of the leaders in the political, commercial; financial and social life of the of the Eastern provinces during the past ten or fifteen years and it is this policy that has sent hundreds of thousands of native born Canadians to the United States besides hundreds of thousands of Europeans who had practically become Canadians. All kinds of schemes were started with the end in view of peopling the Northwest from Europe; and away with the same result—failure. Instead of our own people being encouraged to go to the Northwest, the government announced that it was not its policy to encourage the movement of population from one part of the Dominion to another, and in this the government only expressed the feeling of the people of the Eastern provinces at large, which feeling they manifested in words and actions. Instead of our politicians and business men making a study of Northwest interests with a view of advancing them to the greatest possible degree, these interests were made the football, the plaything, of the politicians of all classes with the only possible result that faith in the country grew slowly, if at all, and one object of the policy above cited was attained—that is people did not remove from Eastern Canada to the Northwest in any large numbers. European immigrants naturally felt that if the Northwest of Canada was not good enough for Canadians it was not good enough for them, and consequently none of the thousand and one patent schemes for inducing European immigration has been a success.

While Canadians were doing their best to prevent their fellow citizens from going to the Northwest, and thereby preventing Europeans as well, the immigration interests of the United States; which had always benefited largely from Canada, and saw danger of losing that benefit through the opening up of the Northwest, simply redoubled their exertions. Until Canadian settlement began to go into Manitoba in the early 70's, the northern part of Minnesota and nearly all Dakota was considered beyond the bounds of successful settlement. But when the immigration interests of the United States saw that people were pouring from Canada into Manitoba, and proving that that province was an agricultural success, they took the line of argument that if Manitoba was fit for human habitation, the country further south, in Dakota, must, by reason of its lower latitude, be much better fitted; ignoring the facts of its higher elevation, destructive storms, less fertile soil and less productive climate. These arguments pushed vigorously and intelligently turned the tide that, from 72 to 76, set so strongly in favor of Manitoba, with redoubled force and volume to Dakota, and made what was an uninhabited territory two populous states. It was no hard matter for a Yankee immigration agent to persuade a Canadian intending emigrant that Dakota was better than Manitoba, when the whole public influence of Canada tended to convince him that Manitoba was no good.

Now that the superiority of the Canadian Northwest is becoming established by the loyalty and persevering energy of the handful of Canadians and others who have pioneered this great country from the Red River to the Rocky Mountains during the past 20 years, who have by their personal exertions and sacrifices, brought out its varied resources, capabilities and advantages to such an extent that there has commenced a return movement from the States, is the time not to indulge in blind confidence or cheap talk, but to take advantage of dear bought experience, and see that the mistakes of the past are not repeated. It is the interest as it is the duty of every Canadian, no matter where he lives, to inform himself regarding this Northwest and its opportunities, so that he may be able to take advantage of those opportunities as the occasion arises, and to encourage his friends to do so. If this is done we will hear no more of a Canadian exodus, for there will be none, and then, and not till then, we may expect the European immigration that we have been looking for for so many years.

THE Regina Leader editorially expresses dissatisfaction with the new redistribution bill. It does not say what the trouble is.

F. W. G. HAULTAIN, chairman of the Northwest executive committee, has left Ottawa for Regina. Mr. Haultain has been in Ottawa for a long time in connection with the new financial arrangements between the federal and territorial governments. As a result of the stand taken by the assembly and his efforts in Ottawa, the shortage of $25,000 of the school funds for the current year has been made good, and the funds, devoted annually by parliament for expenses of government in the Northwest will be distributed by the assembly.

THE Winnipeg Commercial remarks editorially on the freedom from the great storm of April 27th enjoyed by the whole Saskatchewan valley. The Commercial continues: "The storm centre is invariably to the south of us. Many storms sweep over the States to the south of us which are not felt in the Canadian region at all. Others are felt in a moderate degree along our southern and western boundary. As we proceed northward, however, the effect of these southern storms is felt in a less degree, until finally we seem to reach a region entirely beyond their influence. It is these violent storms which render the region to the south so undesirable as a place of residence. People who are not acquainted with these peculiarities of the country are liable to hold an opposite opinion. It is difficult to make people believe that the climate improves farther north. But when this exemption from storms is understood, the matter is explained. A low temperature in winter is not unpleasant, when accompanied by a calm, dry atmosphere, while moderately cold weather, with frequent hurricanes and high winds, is almost unbearable."

A special train conveying W. C. Van Horne, president of the C. P. R., arrived at Edmonton on Sunday morning, at 6:10. Mr. Van Horne's party comprised, besides himself, R. B. Angus, of Montreal, one of the original projectors of the present C. P. R. company, T. G. Kenny, M. P. for Halifax, J. D. Edgar, M. P. for West Ontario, H. S. McDougall, of McDougall Bros., brokers, Montreal; P. A. Peterson, chief engineer of the C. P. R.; A. L. Hertzberg, engineer of the Ontario and Quebec divisions of the C. P. R.; D. McPherson, engineer of the eastern division of the C. P. R.; W. A. Grant, private secretary to Mr. Van Horne. This party occupied the two private cars Saskatchewan and Earncliffe. Occupying official car No. 77 were W. Whyte, Winnipeg, superintendent of the Western division, J. Niblock, Medicine Hat, assistant superintendent of the Western division, W. Cross, master mechanic of the Western division, and J. McGillivray, secretary of Mr. Whyte. Word had been received in Edmonton on Saturday night that the party was expected to arrive on Sunday morning. It was hastily and informally decided that deputations from the town council and board of trade should wait on Mr. Van Horne in reference to the extension of a spur track to the actual river bank, opposite town. About half past seven o'clock Mayor McCauley and Councillors Strang, Fraser, Goodridge and Cameron and F. Oliver waited upon Mr. Van Horne, at the railway station, and stated the object of their visit. Mr. Van Horne at first, declined to consider the question of the suggested extension, but after some discussion decided that as it would tend to increase the volume of traffic over the road, the C. P. R. would operate the spur if it was constructed in a manner satisfactory to the company, so that the cost of operating would be at a minimum. Mr. Van Horne suggested that the matter be laid before him in writing, on his return to Montreal, so that a definite arrangement could be entered into. Several members of Mr. Van Horne's party drove to the brink of the bank to get a view of Edmonton, but had not time to cross the river. The special train pulled out about 8:30 intending to reach Banff the same evening.

The Caroline Gage theatrical troupe, which will visit Edmonton next week, is well spoken of by the press of every place they have visited in the Northwest, with the single exception of Moosejaw, and even there the adverse critic admits the beauty and talent of the leading lady. The Brandon Times says: "The Caroline Gage Company opened their week's engagement on Monday night. The play 'The Honeymoon' deserved a better house, but probably the high wind and rain had something to do with keeping the people at home. It is the best company that visited Brandon this winter. The plays are high class, the scenery very good, the costumes beautiful and the acting decidedly above the average. 'Galatea,' as played by the Caroline Gage Company on Tuesday night, was one of the prettiest little things ever put on the boards." If the merits of this company justify the above favorable criticism they are certainly deserving of the best patronage that this town and district can afford. The fact that they will remain four nights is fair proof that they have something good to offer, otherwise it would not pay them to play more than one night. The appearance of the first professional theatrical troupe marks an era in the progress of civilization here, and their enterprise should receive substantial recognition.
